

CONTENTS

Foreword by Frederick Forsyth	vii
Acknowledgments	xiii
Prologue	1
PART I: A THIN LINE
1 Helicopter Gunships in Sierra Leone's War	25
2 Neal Ellis: Jungle Warrior	49
3 Strike on Makeni and British Involvement	69
4 Combat Flights Into the Interior	93
5 Radio Intercepts and the Inevitable SAMs	115
6 The United Nations Debacle in West Africa	131
7 Strange Bedfellows in Mercenary Wars	155
PART II: MAELSTROM IN THE JUNGLE
8 More Mercs—More Wars	191
9 Mercenaries in Bosnia, Lebanon and Elsewhere	207
10 Early Mercenary Activity in the Congo	241
11 Soldiers of Fortune During Mobutu's Rule	257
12 Nellis and His War Dogs in the Congo	279
13 Zimbabwe's Mercenaries in Congo's War	295
14 Biafra's War and More Foreign Intervention	321
PART III: THE RISE OF THE PROFESSIONALS
15 Executive Outcomes in Angola	349
16 How Executive Outcomes Ran Its Wars	387
17 The Mercenary Air War in Angola	405
18 Taking Angola's Diamond Fields from the Rebels	425
19 An American Warrior Dies in Africa	445
20 Executive Outcomes Moves North	461
21 Gunship Combat in West Africa	487
22 Sierra Leone's Diamond War	513
23 War Dogs Hit a Rebel Base in the Jungle	539
24 A Future for Private Military Companies	553
Epilogue	579
IPOA Code of Conduct	595
Notes	599